Licensed Guides & Outfitters

Thank you for your interest in hunting with us. We offer semi guided hunts, spike camps and drop camp hunts in the West Elk Wilderness which is part of the Gunnison National Forest. The West Elk Wilderness is some of the better big game country in Colorado because of the varied terrain, with no roads or motorized vehicles, and one of the larger elk herds in Colorado. The elevation ranges from 7,600 feet up to 13,000 feet and the terrain varies from gentle to very rugged. The vegetation is oak brush at the lower elevations, aspen forests and open meadows at the mid-elevations with dark timber at the higher elevations.

The Ferrier family has been outfitting in what is now the West Elk Wilderness for 73 years. Second, third, and fourth generations of the family are now involved in the business

Semi Guided Hunts

The semi guided pack-in hunts are available for all seasons (except 4th rifle). We hunt in game management units 53 and 54. Plan to pack in the day before each hunt begins. Most hunting is from our camps located at Cliff Creek, Soap Creek Basin and Elk Basin, which are approximately a 3 hour horse back ride from our pack station at the end of Forest Road #709 (Coal Creek Road). The camps are set up prior to your arrival and include a well equipped cook and dining tent where plenty of good food is prepared. Wall tents for sleeping quarters and furnished and a pit type toilet is also provided.

SPIKE CAMPS

During the archery and muzzleloader seasons we offer the option of spike camps, to be close to game hot spots. Dome tents and lighter, simpler camping equipment is used in spike camps. During these seasons we make use of tree stands and ground blinds.

DROP CAMPS

We also offer the option of drop camps. These camps are fully equipped with everything you'll need except food and personal gear. Please call or check our web site for further details.

If you plan to drive to our pack station, a 4-wheel drive vehicle is advised. If you fly, rental vehicles are available at the Montrose or Grand Junction airports.

Please refer to the attached letter/contract for season dates, license fees and our rates.
